

The financial wisdom of higher deductibles

Choose a Home policy deductible of $2,500 or more, and save in two important ways

Save on premiums

Choosing a high deductible reduces your premium. For example, the difference in premium between a policy on a $1 million home with a $2,500 deductible and one with a $500 deductible can be up to $1,500. Those annual savings build up year after year.

Save with our Deductible Reserve

Homeowners with deductibles of $2,500 or higher automatically have 10 percent of the deductible amount added to a "reserve" each year the policy is loss-free. If a covered loss occurs, the policy deductible is reduced by the amount held in reserve.

After only two years, savings can exceed the higher deductible

On average, a homeowner has a loss on his or her Home policy once every 11 years; therefore, you stand an excellent chance of coming out ahead. As the chart below shows, a typical policyholder with a $2,500 deductible can benefit after two years and save $17,000 after 11 years.

If 1st Loss Occurs in Year #	(1) Cumulative Premium Savings	(2) Deductible Reserve Savings	(1+2) Combined Benefit	(3) Difference in $500 vs. $2,500 Deductible	(1+2-3) Total Savings
1	$1,500	$0	$1,500	$(2,000)	$(500)
2	$3,000	$250	$3,250	$(2,000)	$1,250
11	$16,500	$2,500	$19,000	$(2,000)	$17,000

Choose an Auto policy deductible of $1,000, and achieve similar savings

- Save with the Deductible Reserve. This benefit also applies if you choose a Collision and/or Comprehensive deductible for your automobile of $1,000 or higher. For every loss-free year, 10 percent of the deductible will be added to the reserve until your deductible reaches zero.*
- Save 30 percent in premiums. The average automobile owner will save approximately 30 percent on annual premium by choosing a $1,000 deductible instead of a $500 deductible.
